Guidance and counselling online session / Round Table

Keep it cool @ school!

The online-session was held as an activity within the international ERASMUS+ accredited project, no. 2023-1-R001-KA121-SCH-000123137, conducted by National College "Elena Cuza", Craiova, Romania in partnership with Dolj School Inspectorate, under the auspices of the Romanian Ministry of Education. Invited are experts in risk behaviours from Romania and Turkey.

Risk-taking behaviors refer to engaging in activities or situations that have the potential to be harmful or dangerous, increasing the risk of psychological, physical and academic. This can include missing classes, binge drinking, using drugs, substance use, using social media, etc.

Causes of Risk-Taking Behaviors
There are a number of factors why people may engage in risky behaviors. Understanding these behaviors can be helpful when it comes to addressing them.

Peer Pressure
One of the leading causes of risk-taking behaviors is peer pressure. Some people may feel they are being pushed to do something, or they may feel that if they do not, they will be excluded from the group. This can lead to a loss of self-control and a higher risk of engaging in risky behaviors.

Impulsivity
Some people may have a tendency to act impulsively, without fully considering the consequences of their actions. This can lead to a higher risk of engaging in risky behaviors.

Mental Health
Certain mental health conditions can contribute to risk-taking behaviors. For example, individuals with attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD) are more likely to engage in risky behaviors because they tend to be more impulsive. People with bipolar disorder are also more likely to take risks during their manic and hypomanic episodes.

Substance Use
Substance use is a major contributor to risk-taking behaviors. For example, individuals who use alcohol or drugs are more likely to engage in risky behaviors because they are impaired and have a higher risk of making poor decisions.

Risky-Taking Behaviors
Risky-taking behaviors can include a range of activities. Some common examples include: drinking alcohol or using drugs, using social media, skipping school, and skipping classes.

Examples of risk-taking behaviors that people may engage in include:

- Criminal activity such as stealing, vandalism, or trespassing
- Driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol or engaging in dangerous driving, such as street racing or texting while driving
- Engaging in extreme sports that have a high risk of injury or death
- Engaging in sexual activity with someone who is not their partner
- Engaging in binge drinking
- Engaging in substance use
- Engaging in self-harm
- Engaging in risky driving
- Engaging in risky social media use
- Engaging in risky financial decisions
- Engaging in risky investments

CN Elena Cuza Erasmus Accreditation

29 iulie · 🌐

Cu putin inainte de incheierea celui de al doilea an al acreditarii Erasmus+ pe linia Educatie scolara, inca resimtim efectele primului an de acreditare, in timp ce diseminam in continuare rezultatele anului in curs.

Ce efecte din primul an? In primul an, elevii nostri au mers in 3 mobilitati: Cipru, Spania si Germania. A fost atat de interesant acolo incat am considerat oportun sa ducem colaborarea noastra la urmatorul nivel: un proiect Erasmus+ comun.

Incepand cu acest an, avem un nou proiect Erasmus+ si credem ca este un mod excelent de a le dori « bun venit » bobocilor de clasa a IX-a, in timp ce le multumim celor care ne sunt deja elevi si care au contribuit la castigarea proiectului « Green Revolution for Environmental Education ».

Le multumim tututor elevilor, parintilor si profesorilor care si-au adus aportul ca aceste proiecte sa prinda contur, sa aduca o schimbare pozitiva in vietile noastre si sa aiba o continuitate fireasca si cu efecte vizibile asupra felului in care facem educatie la Colegiul national
